

Edgework Workshops

Researched, designed, tested, and ready-to-go, our workshops provide a great platform for learning. Each Edgework program is designed to help you and your team get to where you want to grow. See below for a description of each and be in touch for more information.

3PS: TEAM WORK STYLES

Our proprietary 3Ps model is intuitive, straightforward, and ready to put into practice. It provides participants with a practical framework for understanding how individual styles affect team performance and actionable tools so those individuals and teams can work better together.

BUILDING CULTURE IN ORGANIZATIONS

Highlighting key research on the role of culture in organizational health and performance, we share our distinct method for evaluating culture and offer practical strategies to influence it — as an individual contributor, manager, or leader.

BUILDING EFFECTIVE TEAMS

Great for open-enrollment, and a real boost for intact teams, this highly interactive workshop uses the latest research and our dynamic 3Ps model to share critical information about how teams evolve and how team members can help increase team effectiveness.

CRUCIAL COLLEAGUE EFFECT

Research shows that well-networked individuals and organizations are more successful. This workshop helps individuals create, strengthen, and leverage relationships with “crucial colleagues,” an essential 21st-century skill.

DISC

Participants hit the ground running in this interactive program. Receiving their own individual DISC assessment, they discover new insights into how they tend to work and how to work and communicate more effectively with colleagues.

EMAIL & MEETING MASTERY

Nothing gets us down like a bad meeting or too much email! This fast-paced, action-oriented workshop results in a cleaner inbox, better email workflow, more effective meetings, and frankly, a better disposition. Available as one session or as a shorter session, focusing on emails or meetings.

GENERATIONS IN THE WORKPLACE

In this workshop, participants are lead through an eye-opening and perspective-building set of activities and deep discussions, giving them an understanding of how generational differences affect many aspects of work and relationships and why and how those differences can be so beneficial.

GIVING & RECEIVING FEEDBACK

Paradigm shift: we can influence not only how we give feedback, but how we receive it, both of which are critical to a constructive outcome. This workshop offers practical techniques for both, resulting in more candor, better relationships, and greater productivity.

MANAGER DEVELOPMENT

Context matters, and our evidence-based program addresses four core domains that drive manager excellence: Self-Management, People Management, Team/Work Management, and Company Management.

NAVIGATING CONFLICT

Based in new understandings of how the brain responds to conflict, this workshop expands participants' understanding of conflict and offers practical skills to advance agendas, promote learning, and enhance relationships.

REMOTE TEAMS

Where, how, and when people work is changing. Our dynamic program explores current trends, shares practical tips, and provides an insightful remote teaming assessment. Great for individuals as well as intact teams.

RESILIENCE

The changing world of work is asking a lot of us. This session covers the "resilience cycle," a sequence of five crucial and interconnected stages that people must manage in order to respond constructively and stay nimble.

TIME MANAGEMENT

We flip the switch, and reveal how truly successful people and organizations achieve productivity by understanding that time is a shared resource. This program provides tools, tips, and strategies for individuals and teams.

WORK-LIFE INTEGRATION

With today's technology, we can work almost anywhere and at any time, and the result is a dramatic blurring of the lines between our professional and our personal lives. The modern organization must re-examine and redefine when, where, and how its employees work. This workshop explores the most current research on this topic and equips employees, managers, and employers with a powerful skillset and playbook to make work-life Integration work.
