

Today’s most successful organizations understand a crucial reality: the most important work is not just done by, but between people. Soft skills are the new hard skills.

At Edgework, we study the books and articles you don’t have time to read. We aggregate and synthesize tools, techniques, and trends that shape the way that teams and managers perform. Then, we transform our findings into dynamic, high-impact learning experiences.

From 20 years of research and work with over 400 clients, we’ve consistently found four essential interpersonal competencies that every person at every level of your organization needs to thrive: Productivity, Communication, Collaboration, and Agility.

Each topic we study, and every workshop we design, is in service of these four competencies.

Building High Performance Teams	Giving and Receiving Feedback	Hybrid Teaming
Culture Building	Managing Change	Resilience
Crucial Colleagues	Managing Up	StrengthsFinder™
DISC Profile	Meeting Mastery	Team Work Styles
Email Mastery	Motivation	Time Management
Facilitation Skills	Navigating Conflict	Work-Life Integration

The Edgework Experience

Practical and Accessible

We are experts in translating research into practice and creating skills frameworks, tools, and techniques that are useful and quickly applied.

Dynamic and Interactive

Engaging conversations, dynamic presentation, and genuine connectivity between learners – learning and development at its best!